“Waste keeps generating even after multiple rounds of garbage collection”

“Waste keeps generating even after we make multiple rounds of garbage collection,” says a senior official attached to Urbaser Sumeet, the private agency that handles garbage collection in the neighbourhood.

The agency took over conservancy operations in Mylapore on Nov. 10.

The official says that frequent need for garbage collection is happening now as the vegetable market at South Mada Street, streets/areas having commercial complexes, hotels and hospitals generate a large amount of waste.

He says that street corners or junctions surrounding these places have become a garbage dump yard, over the years.

In the crowded colonies like Kapali Thotam and Pallakumanagar, he says a huge quantity of legacy waste is found lying between one block and the other.

Hence, clearing these mounds of waste is taking more time and effort.

“Our aim now is to first clear these garbage dump yards and the legacy waste in all areas. Because only when such waste is cleared residents here will be able to witness a visible change in their neighbourhood and would get motivated to keep their streets clean.”

Simultaneously, the agency is also holding frequent awareness campaigns to educate people regarding the source segregation of waste.

The official says that they are also carrying out door-to-door campaigns, daily to spread awareness on the importance of garbage segregation.

Residents in some areas say that the Urbaser staff have overlooked some streets where there are few houses and the place is used to dump waste.

They say Urbaser officials must closely survey all colonies to locate such waste-dump spots.

NGO gifts dry fruits, nuts to conservancy workers

Viswajayam Foundation, an NGO based in R. H. Road, Mylapore celebrated this year’s Deepavali by distributing dry fruits and nuts to conservancy workers. On the Deepavali day, Nov. 14, members of the NGO went around the neighbourhood and distributed boxes of nuts, dry fruits to around 100 newly appointed Urbaser workers, who are in charge of cleaning the neighbourhood streets now.

Says Sekar Viswanathan, founder of the NGO, “For the past 8 years, as a mark of respect towards the services of conservancy workers, we have been distributing sweets to them, every Deepavali. This year, we decided to give them something healthy. So we distributed dry fruits and nuts.”

November 14. Children's Day.

Not many people acknowledged this special day. Few may have celebrated it. And with schools closed due to pandemic conditions, there weren't any celebrations too.

And since Deepavali festival fell on November 14, the festival was THE celebration.

But Children's Day always brings lots of warm memories for me. It is a day that is closely related to our newspaper.

At the Mylapore Times, a long-standing tradition we hold all through November is to encourage school children of the neighbourhood to report and write for the newspaper.

We start with a weekend training and briefing workshop for the teens and get them to nose for news.

No, we do not encourage essays and verses and fiction. We want news and features and pictures from all of them. We hold their hands; giving them leads, fixing an appointment, hinting at events in their backyard . . .

Accompanying policemen on night beats, interviewing the MLA or the Metrowater engineer, checking out the Fire Station, attending the prodosham at a temple . . . the teens have done this and more.

Over two decades, scores of teens have been with our November program and seen their stories and pictures published in the Mylapore Times alongside our regular content.

And they have all got bylines.

Recently, journalist Srinivasa Ramanujam who currently works for The Hindu newspaper shared a black and white photograph that was shot when he was interviewing the Mylapore police inspector as part of our newspaper's program for teens. Srini said that this photo is very valuable for him because it was around this time that he decided to choose journalism as his future, his career.

I believe such programs expose our teens to the real neighbourhood of which they know little, with most living in regulated cocoons. I believe children must be educated on civic, social and community issues as much as they are in math and in the sciences.

We have had to let the 2020 November tradition pass by due to the pandemic conditions. But we are now going to invite teens of the Mylapore neighbourhood to jot down their pandemic-time experiences and share it with us - and plan to publish them online.

Don't you think this collection will be a nice social record?

Archbishop leads service at Luz graveyard to remember departed priests

This is an annual religious service. Celebrating Holy Mass in remembrance of dead priests of the Catholic diocese of Madras-Mylapore at the graveyard for them in Luz.

This service is held days after the Catholic community commemorates All Souls Day on Nov.2, a day to remember and pray for the departed.

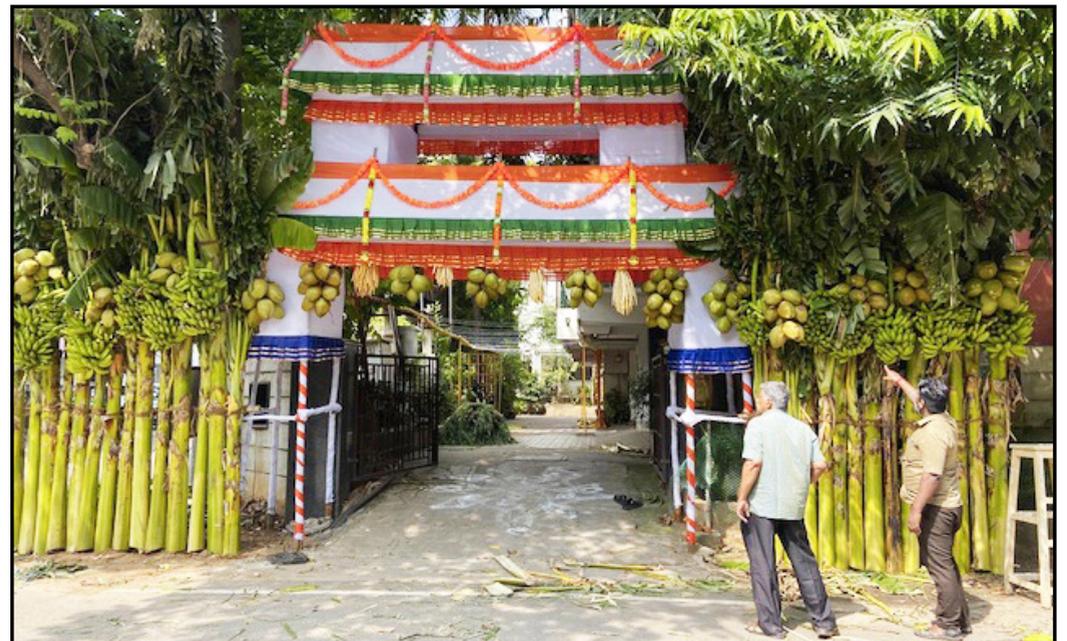

On Saturday, Nov.14, archbishop Rev. Dr. George Antonysamy led his brother priests at this special service. The graves of the priests in the yard adjoining Our Lady of Light Church in Luz were blessed and later, a special Mass was celebrated inside the Church.

Besides the two vicar-generals of the diocese, some 20 priests who head various churches in the city took part in this service.

Said Fr. Peter Thumma, parish priest of the church in Luz, "In ordinary time, we celebrate the Mass in the open here and invite people to take part in it but this time, due to the pandemic rules, only a few people were allowed to join the priests and the archbishop at the service."

The diocese has lost two priests to Covid this year and both were buried in this graveyard as per pandemic time regulations. All priests of this diocese who pass away are buried in this special graveyard, maintained by the church in Luz.

A big, traditional arch welcomed relatives to a wedding home in Abiramapuram

The Krishnans of Abiramapuram just celebrated the wedding of daughter Pavithra with Venkat at a hall in Kotturpuram.

And in keeping with the pandemic time regulations, this was a wedding open to only the near and dear.

But they did not skip one longtime tradition that the family which has its roots in Cuddalore has followed like many others - erecting a 'green' welcome arch at their 4th Street 'Sarada' residence, using banana and other tree cuttings, as well as tender coconuts, all massed on both sides of the gate to the campus.

Plus, the core of the arch, raised on casuarina logs, decorated with the traditional white cloth with frills of orange and green.

Said Krishnan, "The wedding arch is a must for families from our background and my family was keen to erect it for the wedding here."

Pavithra is the fourth generation in a family business of Customs brokerage which was started by S. Natesa Iyer in 1919. The family has been residing in Abiramapuram since 1964.

Wall space being 'reserved' for graffiti for 2021 TN elections

Have you noticed the walls of abandoned properties or state-managed campuses? The signs of preparations for the May 2021 elections to the state Assembly are all over the place.

Every political party's cadres and units in the Mylapore zone have engaged painters and artists to paint teasers and blow up the names of the party's state leaders as well as of local area thalaivars.

Since late October, scrawled on many a wall was this line - 'Reserved for 2021'.

In course of time, the painters got to work.

In some places, local units of political parties put the 'reserved' wall space to good use - painting messages that are for the times like the leader's birthday or an anniversary.

Jude's Bistro in San Thome reopens. New menu. Meals for bulk orders.

After being closed for several months since March due to the pandemic, Jude's Bistro at San Thome High Road re-opened, recently.

To suit people's requirement in the current scenario, the bistro that used to serve only coffee, pastas and pizzas has tweaked its menu.

It has also added popular food items from a range of cuisines covering Indian, Chinese, Mexican and Italian in its menu.

Rotis, parathas, currys (aloo, gobi, egg/chicken curry), Ambur biriyani, bisibelebath are some of the food items on the bistro's menu.

Says Arun Kumar, manager,

"Given the current scenario, people are concerned to come out and dine. Hence, we have introduced a new menu. We will also be operating as a cloud kitchen now."

He says that the bistro has been redesigned to make more space for the kitchen, so it is equipped to handle bulk orders. While the cloud kitchen will be handling only door deliveries, the bistro will be open for dining. It can accommodate six people at a time.

Soon, Arun says they will also be operating a food truck, in collaboration with V-Excel Educational Trust, an NGO based in R.A.Puram.

The bistro is located alongside the campus of St. Bede's Anglo Indian Higher Secondary School on San Thome High Road. It also takes bulk orders for small functions and parties.

Timings: 8 am to 6 pm. Open on all days.

Senior cricket coach Peter Fernandez recalls coaching IPL star bowler Varun

By S. Prabhu

Senior cricket coach Peter Fernandez, a resident of K. B. Dasan Road played a crucial role as a coach in the formative years of the current IPL star and 'mystery' spinner Varun Chakravarthy.

Peter Fernandez

Varun Chakravarthy

Varun's IPL show got him selected for the Indian T20 team to Australia but has had to pull out because of injury.

It was during Varun's third stint with Peter at the SPIN Foundation after the young Varun had become a spinner that his bowling run up and action were corrected. Peter remembers Varun from that year.

"He still had the instincts of a fast bowler and hence had a fast run up to the wicket. He was also delivering the ball a bit faster. It was quite understandable at that time as he had been a fast bowler prior to that move."

Peter says that he worked on shortening Varun's bowling run up which at that time was too long for a spinner. Another aspect that he corrected in Varun was the delivery stride.

Peter says that through that period at the nets, Varun was consistently improving and the Academy's batsmen struggled against him in the nets "Even then, he was too hot to handle. It was difficult to spot his deliveries and every batsman in the academy would be bamboozled by his variations."

Peter also remembers Varun as a quiet boy, sincere and hard working at the nets. "He would come early to the nets and bowl long spells. This year's performance is a just reward for all the years of hard work."

Peter Fernandez played three matches for Tamil Nadu in 1980/81. In the 1990s, he was a Ranji selector for three years under the chairmanship of V. V. Kumar. In the last few years, Peter has had a tough time financially with no coaching engagements after the closing down of the Spin Foundation.

During the lockdown the Indian Cricketers Association pooled in resources to financially support Peter. As a Level 3 coach and with the 15 years experience he has had at the Spin Foundation, Peter is hopeful of getting a coaching assignment with the TNCA once cricket resumes after the lockdown.

This R. A. Puram community gifted civic workers for Diwali

One small group of the staff of Urbaser Sumeet, the new agency which clears garbage were in for a warm surprise on Thursday afternoon in R. A. Puram.

The Ramakrishna Nagar residents association's (this community has grown from the TAKSRA group) senior members presented the workers of this area with a pack of biryani for lunch and a box of sweets for Deepavali.

Senior member of the community, K. L. Bala says that the Urbaser team is doing a wonderful job in the area of clearing the waste. For a few years now, this association has been maintaining the area well with plants on streetside, getting walls painted brightly and garbage collected efficiently, which has gone to make this colony a neat and clean one.

Virus cases continue to be low in Mylapore zone, says local civic official

A city civic official, who manages virus containment operations in one of the local Wards of Chennai Corporation says that Corona virus cases continue to be low in the neighbourhood. The cases have been on the lower side, since the past few weeks. Says the official, "Covid-19 cases continue to be low since the past few weeks. Each Ward of Mylapore is reporting only 3 or less cases a day. Sometimes, a few Wards even report 'nil' cases."

However, the official says they continue to hold two fever-screening camps every day. Some 80 people attend each camp. "The number, however, is lower on days when it rains." Covid (sector) workers also continue to go around the neighbourhood to identify fever and ILI (Influenza-Like Illness) cases, he says.

Devotees flock to Sri Ayyappa Temple in MRC Nagar as 'season' begins

The Sri Ayyappa Temple in MRC Nagar is abuzz now as the season of people undertaking the pilgrimage to Sabarimala or observing the traditional rituals and pujas begins.

Even as the Sri Ayyappa Temple in Sabarimala, Kerala opened for the 'season' last Sunday, here in the MRC Nagar temple on Monday morning (Nov.16), the first day of the Karthigai month, there were over fifty people dressed either in black or saffron sarongs, waiting to get initiated into a season of prayer and renunciation.

A few others who have already observed the period of prayer were seen carrying the irumudi up the steps that lead to sanctum of the temple here.

From now on, there will be a steady stream of Sri Ayyappa devotees visiting this temple in R. A. Puram.
